

LONGEVITY

The autobiography of Luigi Cornaro has passed through forty English editions.

At the age of forty, this sixteenth century Italian nobleman was a dissipated wreck;

But, by reforming his way of eating, he regained his health and lived to be nearly a hundred.

The wholesome foods which he ate in moderation were strikingly similar to those served at CHILDS.

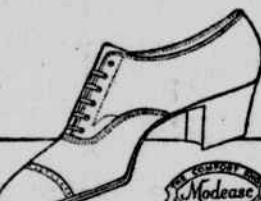

For instance, fresh, succulent vegetables, temptingly prepared and cooked.

HOPE TO HEAR FROM U.S. ON MANDATES

France Favors Modification to Meet Wishes of Washington.

BRITAIN OPPOSED TO IT
Another View Is America Has Defaulted by Not Sending Envoy.

MATTER IS UP THIS WEEK

Reminder Sent Here That No Answer Has Been Received to Invitation.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, June 13.—The United States Government has been reminded through diplomatic channels that the League of Nations has received no answer to its invitation to the United States to send a representative to discuss mandates. Both the Class A and B mandates are on the agenda for the meeting of the council of the league to be held in Geneva on June 17.

The colonial offices of the various countries are interested in bringing pressure for an early solution of the question of mandates. The British appear to be particularly anxious to close up the matter on account of the situation in Mesopotamia. The French Colonial authorities also are urging a prompt settlement. It is not quite clear, however, when the question of mandates will come up.

There are two tendencies inside the League of Nations with regard to mandates. One is to refer the whole question back to the principal powers which negotiated the Versailles treaty and are responsible for the attribution of the mandates. The contention of those holding this view is that the league really exercises no initiative regarding mandates and has only to do with the approval of terms and the supervision of administration of territories under the terms of the mandates decided upon. The French Government is understood to favor modification of the terms of the mandates to meet the American views, while Great Britain opposes this. The other tendency is to consider that the United States has defaulted by not sending a representative to the League of Nations, as she was invited to do, and finally accepting the terms of the class "A" and "B" mandates. Those favoring this tendency profess to regard the failure of the Washington Government to reply to the invitation to attend as equivalent to abandonment of the American protest.

M. Hanotaux, former Minister of Foreign Affairs, will represent France at the forthcoming meeting of the council. Leon Bourgeois, the French representative, is indisposed and will be unable to attend and former Premier Viviani finds it impossible to leave Paris during the time the sessions will be held.

U. S. HAS NOT REPLIED TO MANDATE INVITATION

Was First Extended in Wilson's Closing Days.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 13.—The invitation of the League of Nations to send a representative to discuss the mandate question was first extended in the closing days of the Wilson Administration as a result of protests lodged by the United States concerning the allocation of mandates and the provision made for exploiting the natural resources thereunder. Particularly in the case of oil developments in Mesopotamia, the British mandate, the position was taken that there should be equality of treatment for the citizens of all nations in mandate territories.

Secretary Coby did not reply to the League invitation, preferring to leave the question to the incoming Administration, and Secretary Hughes in his subsequent communications on the subject of mandates addressed the Powers concerned directly and, it is understood, has not replied to the League invitation. It was held by some when the invitation was extended that America could accept without sacrificing any objection to entering the League of Nations. Whether subsequent decision to have qualified representation before the Supreme Council, the conference of the Ambassadors and the Reparation Commission has operated to make such a course now possible was not indicated to-night.

THE PARIS MAIDEN TRIP BRINGS BUST BY RODIN

Mission to Present It to Canada for Her Aid in War.

HAVRE, France, June 13.—The new French liner Paris, sailing for New York next Wednesday on her maiden voyage, will take a special mission, headed by Marshal Fayolle, elected by the France-America Society, going to Canada to thank that country for her aid to France during the war. It is taking for presentation to the Canadian Government a bust by Rodin symbolizing France after her victory, bearing the French inscription: "To Canada Which Had Poured Out the Blood of Her Sons for the Liberty of the World, From Grateful France."

At the culmination of the three-day celebration of the entrance of the steamship into the transatlantic service, the American flag was one of the dominating notes in the decorations.

KRASSINE COMING HERE ON BUSINESS ONLY

Going First to Canada to Avoid Passport Difficulties.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 13.—Leonid Krassine, Soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce, is planning a visit to Canada and the United States in the near future, his headquarters here to-day definitely informed the Associated Press.
Krassine's trip will relate strictly to trade and will have no political significance. He will go first to Canada and then to the United States if possible. It was said at his office he does not anticipate that any obstacles will be placed in his way. It is said that he has no intention of establishing a trade bureau in the United States, similar to that attempted by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, who was deported from the United States last year.
The belief was expressed to-day that Krassine intended to go first to Canada in order to avoid possible refusal by the American consular authorities to issue his passport.

RISES FROM JANITOR BOY TO HEAD OF RIGGS BANK

Milton E. Ailes Worked His Way Through Treasury Department and Became Instructor for Future Financiers, Vanderlip Among Number.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Milton E. Ailes, who began his career as a boy in the Treasury Department clearing ashes from the fireplaces and filling the water coolers, was to-day elected president of the Riggs National Bank, one of the largest financial institutions of the East. For many years he has been a vice-president. Charles C. Glover, the president, was elected chairman of the board.
Ailes came to the capital many years ago a penniless boy from Shelby county, Ohio. While he polished doorknobs and piled a broom in the Treasury he studied finance.
When John G. Carlisle took the Treasury portfolio Ailes became private secretary to one of his assistants, Lyman J. Gage found his knowledge of Treasury affairs so complete that he asked President McKinley to make Ailes an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, but discovered to his horror that Ailes came of Democratic stock.

"That's not important, Gage," President McKinley said. "If you and I had been raised in Shelby county we'd be Democrats, too. He can't help it."
McKinley appointed him Secretary Gage's chief assistant, and as such Ailes conducted the principal Treasury operations, including Spanish war financing. Meanwhile he took over the job of being schoolmaster to the set of young men Gage brought to the Treasury, among whom were Frank A. Vanderlip and others now national figures in finance. After enjoying the intimate friendship of McKinley and Roosevelt, Ailes left the Treasury and became a banker.

RIOTING IN BELFAST RENEWED; 4 VICTIMS

Snipers Use Windows and Skylights—Armored Cars Restore Order.

By the Associated Press.
BELFAST, Ireland, June 13.—Rioting last night added four more victims to Belfast's week end death toll, three civilians and a special constable being killed in renewed disturbances in York street and during sniping activities in Keshmire road in the Falls Division of the city.

During the York street outbreak the method of firing through windows and skylights, from which bullets flew in all directions. The area became a veritable No Man's Land and it was only at the gravest risk that the police even in armored cars dared enter the danger zone. Military armored cars opened machine gun fire and restored order.
Rioting was renewed this forenoon. The Sinn Fein side had marksmen engaged in sniping virtually all the morning. When the police appeared within range they were fired upon. The police returned the fire, and later an armored car arrived in the district. Two persons were wounded and sent to hospitals.

DUBLIN, June 13.—Two former soldiers were shot dead last night on the street by three unknown persons.
The Camlough district of Newry was the scene this morning of another shooting, the third in a week. The victim was a young man reputed to be a Sinn Feiner. He was taken from his home by a gang of men and murdered. A widow and three small children.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 13.—A despatch to the London Press Association from Dublin to-day said that Thomas Rush, 35, said to be an American navy pensioner, was shot to death yesterday evening at Liscul, near Castlereagh, by Crown forces.

Robert Livingston Beekman, former Governor of Rhode Island; Henry E. Eldridge and Samuel Riker, J. C. executors of the will of Samuel Thomas, were directed yesterday by Surrogate Foley to show cause why they should not pay to Edward R. Thomas of Palm Beach the accrued income of a trust fund established for the benefit of G. W. Beekman's wife, Eleanor Thomas Beekman, who died last December. Thomas asserts that the will of Samuel Thomas, his father, provided a trust fund of the residue of the estate for the benefit of himself and his sister, the survivor to receive all the income in case either died without children. Mrs. Beekman had no children, but by will left her entire estate to Gov. Beekman.

A suit is pending in the Supreme Court over the construction of Samuel Thomas's will, owing to the conflicting features of Mrs. Beekman's will, but Edward R. Thomas asserts he is entitled to the income from this particular trust, regardless of the outcome of the suit. Mrs. Beekman's estate amounted to approximately $4,000,000.

SOUTHBURIDGE, Mass., June 13.—William E. Arnold of Southbridge, an amateur wireless operator, received word to-day he had been awarded $25,000 radio telephone receiving set as one of the seventy-six prizes offered for picking up the Washington's Birthday message sent out by President-elect Harding on the night of February 21. The message was of thirty words, sent in two sections from different stations.
W. H. Kirwan of Davenport, a director of the plan, wrote Arnold the first prize was won by a young man in California. Four Massachusetts amateurs received prizes. Mr. Kirwan wrote.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, June 13.—Three Italian Cardinals were added to the Sacred College to-day when Pope Benedict, in a secret consistory, raised to the purple Mgr. Giovanni Tacci Porcelli, the Papal Major Domus; Mgr. Camillo Laurenti, Secretary of the Congregation of the Propaganda, and Mgr. Achille Ratti, Papal Nuncio to Poland.

All the Cardinals who were in Rome assembled in the Hall of the Consistory. Pope Benedict, surrounded by his Swiss and Noble Guards and followed by the Sixtus Choir, who sang as they walked entered the hall on foot, dressed in white. After intoning a prayer and reading an allocution the Pontiff proceeded to announce the names of the new Cardinals.

SHIPPING BOARD SWORN IN.

First Meeting Held to Discuss General Situation.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Four of the seven members of the Shipping Board, including A. D. Lasker, were sworn in to-day and immediately assumed their duties. The other members installed were former Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, Fred I. Thompson of Alabama and Rear Admiral William S. Benson of Georgia, former chairman.

Chairman Lasker immediately called a meeting of the board to discuss the general situation.

A REMARKABLE BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

A business in the sale of a time and labor-saving machine widely used in business offices, stores and shops can be purchased on very favorable terms.

The cash payment necessary is little more than the company earned in net profits in a single year from the sale of its machines. One of its general agents also earned nearly this amount in a single year in commissions.

This machine is sold to the user at $50 to $75 in different sizes. Over 10,000 have been sold in a limited territory and sales of 15,000 to 25,000 or more annually should be reached under proper management. A manufacturer produces the machines by contract at less than one-fourth the sales price.

MARINE ENGINEERS ACCEPT 15 P. C. CUT

Agreement Reached in Conference Applies to Shipping Board Vessels.

IN EFFECT TEN MONTHS

Grievances of Seamen, Firemen and Others to Be Taken Up by Secretary Davis.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Terms of an agreement on wages and working conditions for engineers on Shipping Board vessels, reached in conferences between Secretary Davis, Rear Admiral Benson, former chairman of the board, and representatives of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, were approved to-day by Chairman Lasker and will be signed to-morrow, according to statements of officials of the Department of Labor, W. S. Brown, president of the Engineers Association, and officials of the Shipping Board.
Brown already has affixed his signature to copies of the agreement. It was announced at the Department of Labor, and Chairman Lasker, who assumed office to-day, will sign to-morrow for the board, it was stated.

After announcement had been made that the engineers had reached agreement with the board, Secretary Davis sent out requests to representatives of the seamen, the firemen, cooks and stewards, and radio operators to meet him for conferences on similar terms of settlement of their grievances resulting from a reduction of wages put into effect May 1 by the Shipping Board and private ship owners.

The terms provide for a 15 per cent. reduction of wages and elimination of overtime, and are to remain in effect until April 30, 1922. The matter of reinstatement of men who refused to accept the cut and left their jobs, it is understood, is left for as fair as possible adjustment separately.

While the private ship owners, many of whom operate Shipping Board vessels, so far have refused to enter into a year's agreement with the men, it is understood that Government officials are hopeful they will follow the action of the Shipping Board.

The strike would have been settled a month ago if two radical leaders among the marine engineers had not prevented. Secretary Davis said to-day. "Their influence delayed the settlement until the engineers now are forced to accept terms that amount to a 4 per cent. greater loss than they would have sustained had they taken the advice of W. S. Brown, their president, who urged them to go back to work soon after the conferences began."

BALTIMORE WORKERS YIELD.

Marine Strike Called Off and Men Ask for Work.

BALTIMORE, June 13.—Acting upon orders received from their international officers at Washington, members of the marine engineers' beneficial association are hopeful they will follow the action of the Shipping Board.
The strike would have been settled a month ago if two radical leaders among the marine engineers had not prevented. Secretary Davis said to-day. "Their influence delayed the settlement until the engineers now are forced to accept terms that amount to a 4 per cent. greater loss than they would have sustained had they taken the advice of W. S. Brown, their president, who urged them to go back to work soon after the conferences began."

STAR GOLFER 'CANNED' FOR VIOLATING RULES

University of Chicago Player Was Smoking Cigarette.

Special Despatch to The New York Herald.
CHICAGO, June 13.—For smoking a cigarette while he was enjoying an after dinner lounge upon the steps of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity house, William McQuire, star golfer for the University of Chicago, has been "canned" from the university golf team by Alonzo Stagg, athletic director for the institution.

It became known about the campus to-day that while McQuire was in the midst of his "rag offense" Saturday, Mr. Stagg came along.
"You know the rules against smoking any kind of tobacco," he told McQuire. "I may not always turn out winning teams, but the members must be sportsmen. You are no longer a member of the golf team."
McQuire's protests that smoking didn't interfere with his golf were of no avail and Charles McQuire, captain of the football team, was put in his place.

NEW YORK BANKERS ASSISTED NEWBERRY

Lyman D. Smith Says That He Forwarded Money to Aid in Michigan Campaign.

MAY CHECK UP ACCOUNT

Senate Committee Divides as to How Far Inquiry Should Go Into Charges.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Henry Ford's contest for the seat of Senator Newberry of Michigan threw the Senate Committee hearing to-day into a division as to how far the inquiry should go into charges connected with the financing of the 1918 campaign.
Lyman D. Smith, a New York stockbroker, testified to having forwarded money in behalf of himself and others for the Michigan campaign, and stated that "nearly all the banking people I knew in New York" possibly had done the same thing.

Alfred Lucking, Mr. Ford's counsel, demanded the right to check Mr. Smith's bank account, and the witness agreed, but Chairman Spencer, over the protest of Senator Walcott, and minority members, said the committee would take the step under advisement.
"It is apparent we are not going to be allowed to investigate bank accounts in running down these charges," Senator Walcott said.

"We shall not subject any bank to investigation unless we have decided in conference," Chairman Spencer replied. Senator Walcott pushed the witness for details of the New York contribution.
Mr. Smith said he didn't want to repeat gossip, but that "officials of the American Exchange National Bank were very anxious to see Newberry nominated," and that the Chatham and Phenix "might have" sent money.

Frederick C. Brooks, another New Yorker, explained that he had sent $2,500 through Smith to the Newberry campaign, "doing for Truman (Senator Newberry) just what I think he would do in a similar position for me."
Two other financial men, W. C. Durant, General Motors Company organizer, and Andrew H. Green, Jr., vice-president of the Solvay Process Company, also were examined, as was Fred P. Smith, business agent of the Newberry estate. Mr. Durant said he gave $5,000 and Mr. Green explained his reason for paying Newberry campaign debts to the extent of "between $25,000 and $50,000" by saying the "Democratic candidate (Ford) I didn't consider fit to represent the State of Michigan."

Mr. Smith told of checking out $120,000 from funds of John S. Newberry (the Senator's brother) to the campaign committee and receiving back a "paper bag with $20,000 or $21,000 in it."

"I understood this was adjustment from the contributions received," he explained. Mr. Lucking demanded the cancelled checks and records, but Mr. Smith said that when he started to look for them Saturday "we found the vault unlocked and all the records gone."
